Bespoke Sliding Doors

Industrial Insulated Sliding Door

Armourpost have recently completed two projects for Stagecoach using our bespoke sliding doors.

The doors are manufactured from insulated panels offering a high U value, each door has a powder coated formed steel surrounding frame alongside RHS stiffening supports. The doors have precision engineered wheels to the base and upper rollers to the head.

The insulated panels can be powder coated and provided with vision panels if required.

The doors are manually operated and can be easily moved using the flush mounted handles provided.

Brush seals are added to the doors to give additional thermal protection.

Large areas can be sealed off using the doors, alternatively a single door over an entrance for example could be used.
